

Photo courtesy of June W. Kennedy

Headed home

Ah, summer, the time for travel. Even a short trip away can bring some surprises for returning residents. The town's face has been in constant change, as seen in this undated early century photo of a farm well- past its prime. The sign indicates the distance to the town centers of Dunstable and Westford.